INTRODUCTION

The Secretary of State and Registrar General of Canada administers legislation relating to companies, patents of invention, trade marks, copyrights, industrial designs, timber marking, governmental and parliamentary translations, boards of trade, the registration of trade unions, public officers and public documents.

The Secretary of State is the channel of communication with the Governor General and, through him, with the Sovereign concerning various matters, such as decorations and other subjects related to the exercise of the royal prerogative, and is responsible for the preparation and tabling of certain returns in Parliament.

The Registrar General is the custodian of the Great Seal of Canada and of a Privy Seal of the Governor General.

The Decorations Committee and the Committee on the Use of Parliament Hill and the National War Memorial report to the Secretary of State. State ceremonial, decorations and precedence, including publication of the Guide to Relative Precedence at Ottawa, are amongst the variety of functions entrusted to the Department of the Secretary of State.

The Secretary of State is Custodian of Enemy Property and as such administers legislation relative to wartime trading with the enemy. The operations of the Office of the Custodian of Enemy Property are dealt with in a separate report tabled in Parliament annually by the Secretary of State.

The staff of the department is headed by the Deputy Registrar General of Canada, who is also Deputy Custodian of Enemy Property, and by the Under Secretary of State. Other officers are the directors of the branches enumerated below, namely, Administration and Registration Branch, Companies and Corporations Branch, National Museum of Canada, Patent and Copyright Office, Protocol Branch, Trade Marks Office and Translation Bureau. The activities of these branches, in that order, are outlined in this report.

The Secretary of State is responsible for the Canadian Centre for the Performing Arts, the Centennial Commission, the National Library, the Public Archives and the Office of the Queen's Printer (Publisher) and is the spokesman in Cabinet and Parliament for the Board of Broadcast Governors, the Canada Council, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the Chief Electoral Officer, the Civil Service Commission, the Economic Council of Canada, the National Film Board, the National Gallery and the Representation Commissioner. However, the present report covers only the operations of the Department of the Secretary of State.

LIBRARY

This library was formed in 1904 and is restricted almost exclusively to legal volumes.

The following collections are in the Library:

The Statutes of Canada, the Provinces and the United Kingdom; The Canada Gazette; the London Gazette; Journals and Debates of the Senate and the House of Commons;

Such Canadian Law Reports as Supreme Court, Exchequer Court, Dominion Law Reports, Western Weekly Reports, Canadian Annual Digest, Canadian Abridgments, Canadian Encyclopaedic Digest, Ontario Reports;

Such United Kingdom Law Reports as Judicial Committee of the Privy Council Appeal Cases, Chancery Division, Probate Division, Queen's Bench Division, Weekly Law Reports;

During the past year, 6,774 publications were received, recorded and shelved. The customary searches dealing with statutes, orders in council, records of appointments, proclamations, regulations, historical data, biographies, etc., were made for members of this and other departments. Approximately 1,171 books were loaned and 1,450 volumes were consulted.

COMPANIES AND CORPORATIONS BRANCH

Under the Companies Act

Letters patent were granted incorporating 832 companies under Part I and 65 corporations without share capital under Part II.

Supplementary letters patent were granted to 670 existing companies and to 28 existing corporations without share capital; 8 certificates were issued to existing companies increasing the amount of consideration to be received for the issuance of shares without nominal or par value.

Pursuant to the provisions of Part IV, 2 licences were issued to foreign mining companies to carry on mining operations in the Northwest Territories and in the Yukon Territory.

The total number of documents entered on the Register of Mortgages and Charges pursuant to the provisions of sections 66 and 68 was 248.

The total number of annual summaries submitted under section 125 totalled 13,845.

There were 969 Certificates of Good Standing issued.

Certificates of acceptance of surrender of charters were issued dissolving 248 companies under section 29 and 63 charters were returned for cancellation. Advice was received to the effect that 29 companies had gone into bankruptcy or were in process of liquidation.

The Companies and Corporations Branch maintains a complete record of the names of all Canadian companies incorporated under or by federal and provincial statutes. There were 9,798 searches undertaken by the Enquiries and Names Search Division, of which 5,029 were to determine the availability of suggested corporate names and 4,769 were inquiries as to the existence or otherwise of companies under specific names.

Under the Boards of Trade Act

There were 30 boards of trade registered, 3 orders in council issued changing the names of boards of trade and 1 order in council issued changing the boundary of an existing board of trade. There were 4 boards of trade dissolved.

NATIONAL MUSEUM OF CANADA

The year 1964 was one of transition for the National Museum of Canada. On February 8 the Museum was formally transferred from the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources to the Department of the Secretary of State.

Dr. Richard Glover took over as Director of the Human History Branch on January 3. Dr. A. W. F. Banfield was appointed Director of the Natural History Branch on February 3, succeeding Dr. L. S. Russell, who had resigned on October 31, 1963.

With these two major changes, in sponsorship and leadership, the National Museum prepared to expand its major roles of service to the public and to science, and to further its plans to house adequately expanded staff and exhibits in the new museum buildings to be erected.

In the late summer it was decided to defer the date of the completion of the new Human History Museum. Some gain was found in the new plan to complete the whole building containing both Human and Natural History as a single operation. It is also true that the task of setting up new exhibits in the large areas to be provided should be much better done with more time allowed. With the construction of the new National Museum building, scheduled for completion in 1968, the staffs commenced planning and preparation of museum displays for installation in the extensive new exhibition halls.

NATURAL HISTORY BRANCH

The Natural History Branch is responsible for the curation of the National Collections of Mammals, Birds, Reptiles and Amphibians, Fishes, non-Insect Invertebrates, Vertebrate Fossils, Cryptogams and Vascular Plants, and Minerals. It includes a staff of research scientists to undertake the study of these groups, and it maintains exhibition halls to display examples of these collections.

Zoology

Major changes in personnel of the Division were made. Dr. E. L. Bousfield succeeded Dr. Banfield as Chief Zoologist. Dr. Dale S. Russell, Columbia University, accepted the post of Vertebrate Palaeontologist, succeeding Dr. Wann Langston who had previously resigned.

The results of investigations on the taxonomy, distribution, ecology, and general biology of animal life in the Canadian and contiguous regions were interpreted to the scientific community and to the Canadian public by means of scientific and popular publications, by lectures, and through the media of TV, radio, and the press. Several hundred queries from the general public and from scientists the world-over were answered by the scientific staff.

The staff continued to participate in various educational services, including the operation of the Macoun Field Club, a junior field-naturalists' group, and the reorganization of the 'National Collection of Nature Photographs.'

Collections

During 1964 the National Zoological Collection continued to grow at a rapid rate, totalling 379 accessions, not only as the result of field expeditions, but also through donation of material and by purchase and exchange. Loans were made to many outside institutions and universities in Canada and in the United States.

The total number of specimens added to the collection was 118,644, made up of mammals, birds, amphibians and reptiles, fishes, molluscs, arthropods and other invertebrates.

Field Work

Among the numerous investigations carried out in 1964 were the following:

1. The distribution of certain southern mammals which barely reach the southern border of the Prairie Provinces;
2. Identification of air-strike material for the Canadian Wildlife Service;
3. The shallow-water marine invertebrates of the coast of British Columbia;
4. The birds in two main areas of southern British Columbia, Lytton and Lillooet in the Fraser Valley and at 59 Mile House;
5. Molluscs of the Hudson Bay Drainage Basin;
6. Fishes of the Prince Patrick-Brock Island area;
7. Mammals—Continuation of survey of the Colville River region of northern Yukon.

In addition to the above and other investigations, a number of field trips were made by scientists and technicians for the collection of mammals, birds, reptiles, fishes, molluscs, and invertebrates in the Ottawa Region.

Current Projects

Among the current projects are the following:

1. Terrestrial amphipod crustaceans of Australia;
2. Supplement to the abyssal molluscs of the World;
3. The marine fishes of Arctic Canada;
4. Study of the reptiles and amphibians of Canada;
5. Completion of the Sage Grouse Habitat;
6. Monograph of the freshwater molluscs of the Hudson Bay Watershed.

Botany

During the year 11,300 specimens resulted from field work of the Herbarium staff; 5,762 specimens of vascular plants and cryptogams were obtained by exchange, 378 by donation, and 2,522 in return for determinations undertaken by members of the staff. Duplicate specimens numbering 5,809 were sent on exchange; 2,225 specimens were loaned to other botanical institutions; and 1,190 were borrowed for study by members of the National Herbarium staff.

A total of 6,915 vascular plants and 6,408 cryptogams were mounted or packaged for insertion in the Herbarium, bringing the new totals of mounted specimens to 283,685 and 119,739 respectively. Thirteen additions were made to the National Herbarium collection of "Types," i.e. the actual specimens from which the original descriptions were made, bringing the new total of catalogued types to 1,908.

Special Donations

Among the more notable accessions were the following:

(1) A unique selection of 4,111 photographs mainly of western wild flowers and trees in their native habitats, which was presented to the National Herbarium of Canada by the late William Copeland McCalla of Calgary, Alberta. These photographs, all carefully labelled by Dr. McCalla and mounted in twenty-five large albums, have been indexed and will remain an invaluable pictorial record and supplement to the National Collection of herbarium specimens.

(2) A duplicate set of original colour transparencies of North American arctic wild flowers with voucher specimens of the actual plants photographed, the gift of Mrs. Wood and the late Dr. Raymond D. Wood of Salt Lake City, Utah, formerly of Mount Kisko, New York, in return for botanical advice and some assistance given them in planning itineraries and logistics. This unique collection, numbering 775 transparencies in permanent mounts, all carefully labelled and cross-indexed, includes close-up portraits of 354 species of arctic plants, among them many that are rare and never before photographed, together with photographs of their natural habitats. Thanks to the technical skill and planning of the photographers, these transparencies constitute a unique research tool which in many cases will make possible the study of flower details and morphological structures not easily studied in pressed herbarium specimens.

Field Work

Botanical collections were made in Alberta, in British Columbia, and in the southern portion of James Bay area. Collections of mosses were made in the Niagara-Hamilton area and in the vicinity of Ottawa. The Chief Botanist joined botanical excursions in Sweden and Norway to observe Scandinavian methods and techniques in peat bog investigations and in the study of relic populations of arctic-alpine plants in the mountains of central Norway.

Current Projects

1. Studies of new or critical plants endemic to Yukon and Alaska and of some recent important collections of vascular plants from southwestern Yukon, in particular the taxonomy and distribution of 267 rare or critical taxa;
2. Study of the flora of Alberta and British Columbia;
3. Revision of checklist of vascular plants of the Hudson Bay Lowlands;
4. Preparation of a manual of mosses of eastern North America;
5. Continued work on the flora of Central and Eastern Canada.

HUMAN HISTORY BRANCH

The Branch continued to collect, classify, exhibit, and make known through various media the material illustrating the archaeology and ethnology of Canada, which divisions encompass physical anthropology, folklore, folkmusic, and linguistics.

Archaeology

During the year the Division was reorganized into three sections: Western Canada, Eastern Canada, Physical Anthropology, with an archaeologist in charge of each. Two new archaeologists were appointed, one to fill a new staff position as Atlantic Provinces Archaeologist, one to head the Western Canada Section and as Subarctic Archaeologist.

Collections

Increment for 1964 was 15,514, bringing the collections to 326,444; eight gift collections totalled 106 artifacts; loans of various skeletal and artifactual material were made to various universities and institutions for study purposes.

Field Work

The main areas of field work were as follows: sites in Bruce County, Ontario, and mound and cairn features of the lower Rideau River, Ontario; long-range survey across the northern parts of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta; the Debert Palaeo-Indian site in Nova Scotia.

Current Projects

1. Study of Dorset culture origins in arctic Canada;
2. Archaeological-ethnological study of the nature of aboriginal Eskimo economy;
3. Analysis of a small Dorset culture collection from Melville Island, N.W.T.;
4. Continued research on Late Woodland assemblages of northern Ontario;
5. Completion of a monograph on the Laurel Tradition of central Canadian prehistory;
6. Salvage excavation of an extensive prehistoric burial site area in Fort Erie, Ontario;
7. Studies in archaeology and palaeoclimatology of the Barren Grounds.

The Division of Archaeology sponsored contracts for archaeological work in the following areas in Canada (to name a few):

1. Whitefish Lake.—A total of 3,106 specimens including stone and bone detritus were obtained.
2. Brophy's Point site on Wolfe Island.—Artifacts have not as yet been catalogued.
3. The Ottawa Valley of Ontario and Quebec with concentration on the Palaeo-Indian period.—Artifacts have not as yet been catalogued.
4. Central Newfoundland with concentration on the archaeological identification of the Beothuk.—This field work will provide the ground work for the continuation of the project in the next field season.
5. Temiscouata region of Quebec.—A total of 27 sites produced nearly 500 artifacts.
6. Caribou Eskimo and Athapaskan burials in southern Keewatin.—Three Chipewyan and five Padlimiut skeletons were recovered, together with grave goods.
7. The Culloton and North Henik Lake areas in southern Keewatin District.—The collections have not as yet been catalogued, but they will probably number about 400 specimens.
8. Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Search for sites of aboriginal rock art.
9. The Lochnore-Lillooet area of south-central British Columbia.
10. The winter camp of Jens Munk 1619-1620.—Near the mouth of the Churchill River.
11. Southern Baffin Island, N.W.T.—Study of Eskimo prehistory.
12. The Lanoraie site of southern Quebec.—Study of the total assemblage of materials.

Ethnology

Mr. D. DeBlois succeeded Dr. T. F. S. McFeat as Chief of the Division. During the year one position was added, that of Ethnohistorian.

Collections

The Ethnological Collection was increased by 649 specimens, acquired by gift or purchase. Among the most important were 22 Kwakiutl Indian masks; 360 Indian and Eskimo specimens donated by the Robert Bell Estate; 71 Eskimo ivory carvings; and two beaded Sarcee Indian costumes donated by Dr. Diamond Jenness.

Loans

Among the material sent on loan to universities and institutions were 19 Northwest Coast Indian specimens, to the Art Institute of Chicago; 11 Indian specimens to the Canadian Government Exhibition Commission for an exhibition in Poland; 26 Northwest Coast specimens to the Robert H. Lowie Museum of Anthropology, University of California; and 80 Eskimo carvings for a tour of various museums and art galleries in Australia. In addition, school loans of ethnological specimens were sent to various schools of Ottawa and vicinity.

Field Work

The main areas of study were as follows:

1. Coast of British Columbia and neighbouring interiors.—To survey various Indian groups of that region.
2. Povungnituk, P.Q.—To collect material for the Museum's diorama and to transcribe stories for our collection of Povungnituk Eskimo "legend carvings."
3. The Maritimes.—Investigation of the Micmac language.

Current Projects

Among current projects are the following:

1. Translation into French and into English of Eskimo songs collected from the Povungnituk area;
2. Ethnology of Copper and Iglulik Eskimos;
3. Collation and analysis of Micmac material for compilation of Micmac language and morphology of the Maritime Provinces;
4. Inventory of the Museum's Athapaskan material culture collection;
5. New ethnological exhibits.

In the summer of 1964 a conference on Algonquian Linguistics, under the auspices of the Ethnology Division, took place at the Museum. It was attended by twelve linguists, very nearly the total for all of North America in this field.

Among the sponsored contracts in the field of ethnology were the continuation of a linguistic study of Malecite Passamaquoddy; the study of languages in contact among various linguistic groupings of Canada for a publication on speech-mixture; continuation of a study of the Interior Indians of British Columbia; and a study of Acadian kinship values in Nova Scotia.

FOLKLORE SECTION

In the Folklore Section, 300 tape recordings were added to the present collection, which now numbers 2,255 recorded tapes.

English folksongs from Ontario and French folksongs from the provinces of Ontario, Quebec, and western Canada were added to the Museum Collection, which comprises a repertoire of some 14,000 songs and 700 pieces of recorded instrumental music.

Over 375 public requests were answered. Material from the Folklore Collection has been sent all over the world for radio broadcasts, TV programs, films, research projects, and conferences.

Research in the field of folklore was conducted along the St. Lawrence River among the Acadians of Baie Ste. Marie and on the Magdalen Islands; on the popular beliefs and superstitions in Nova Scotia; and on the material aspect of the folk culture of Quebec. Important investigations were pursued on music and dance among the Iroquois of the Six Nations Reserve of Ontario, among ethnic groups of European origin, and among many other ethnic groups such as the Doukhobors and Ukrainians.

History

The Canadian History Division was established in 1964 with the appointment of a chief historian, Mr. F. J. Thorpe, who, in addition to supervising the division, is to conduct research on New France.

The new division's role is to make significant contributions to research in Canadian history and to publish its research findings; to publish, for general readers, material on selected historical subjects; to preserve objects which illustrate various aspects of Canadian history; to participate in the display program of the Museum; to give and to sponsor occasional lectures, with the object of informing interested members of the public on aspects of Canadian history.

Research

Research was begun in 1964 on an aspect of the history of the French régime. And under contract, research was started on Quebec potters and pottery of the nineteenth century.

Projects

Construction of models of four ships built by the Royal Navy on Lake Ontario between 1812 and 1814 was begun. Plans were made for future history displays.

Collections and Accessions

During the year the Historical Collection was increased by about 700 items, bringing the total up to 3,300. Among the most notable accessions were a commode bombée and an armoire of the French régime, many items of early nineteenth century American and Canadian glassware of types in domestic use in Canada, chairs which had belonged to Lord Elgin, nineteenth century carriages and sleighs, and many other items too numerous to mention.

CANADIAN WAR MUSEUM

The Canadian War Museum is responsible for the care, preservation, display, and acquisition of War Trophies and other Historical Exhibits of a military nature.

The past year was devoted to a detailed survey of all specimens. Some thousands of artifacts were carefully examined, and inquiry was made into their history, technical value, and suitability for inclusion in the new Museum.

Accessions

Specimens have continued to flow in during 1964. Among these were a Piasecki HUP-3-Helicopter, the last of three which had been used on air-sea rescue work for thirteen years in the Pacific Command, and a Fairey Swordfish, one of the truly 'great' aircraft of the Second World War.

Loans

Loans have been made to other museums, to the Armed Forces, to the National Gallery of Canada, to the Department of Veterans Affairs, and to CBC-TV, for display purposes.

Attendance

Attendance, which increased by about forty thousand in 1964 from the previous year, is an indication of the growing interest in the material on display. Service to the public has been hampered because of inadequate space. In order to combat this, specimens have to be changed from time to time to try to show the material of necessity in storage. The new Museum building should remove this obstacle.

THE NATIONAL AVIATION MUSEUM

The National Aviation Museum was indeed fortunate in 1964 to acquire aircraft of much historic worth, of which the most noteworthy were—

1. A Supermarine Spitfire IX aircraft, the foremost British fighter of World War II, which was donated by Mr. John N. Paterson.
2. A Bellanca Pacemaker, whose reputation as a long distance record-breaker for bush aircraft of thirty-odd years ago was outstanding. This acquisition rounds out a collection of the leading bush aircraft of the 'Golden Age of Bush Flying in Canada.'
3. A Fleet Model 50 airframe donated by the General Manager of the Labrador Mining and Exploration Company, Limited. This will be rebuilt for display at a later date.

The Museum is also pleased to report the acquisition of the McKeen Trophy which the RCAF and the Air Transport Association handed over to the Museum for safekeeping and permanent display. A suitable display case for this historic trophy was donated by the Association. In addition to rearranging present displays and overhauling four engines from its collection to meet exhibition standards, the Museum also prepared three new displays.

During the year it was decided that the historic aircraft collections held by the Canadian War Museum, the National Aviation Museum, and the RCAF should be pooled and collectively known as the 'National Aeronautical Collection,' the individual organizations to retain control and to be responsible for their own specimens.

Special Exhibit

A special exhibit of historic aircraft at the Rockcliffe Air Station during the year, in co-operation with the Canadian War Museum and the RCAF, comprised about twenty specimens of the National Aeronautical Collection. This occasion made possible the exhibit of all the National Aviation Museum's restored aircraft. It is hoped to plan, improve, and extend this exhibit in future years.

COMMON SERVICES

Library

At the end of 1964 the Library had a stock of 49,866 volumes, three-fifths of which are periodicals and serials. Although its main function is to serve the research needs of museum scientists, it also serves as a national source for the literature of the natural and human sciences. During the year, 1,110 items were lent to other libraries in Canada and abroad, and 246 books were borrowed from other sources.

A marked increase in demand on all library facilities has been caused by the addition of historical research to museum studies and by the expansion in all other departments. It has also been noted that the Museum Library is becoming better known to other institutions, and as a result it is increasingly being used by them.

Education Division

The steady increase as shown in the attendance records for the Museum proper, in lectures and special program attendance, and in the letters asking for information on all related subjects is an indication of the growing interest in Canada's National Museum and in the public's recognition of what it has to offer.

Attendance records:

1964—271,897

SERVICE TO THE PUBLIC

Lectures, special programs:

English (adult).....	31
French (adult).....	2
Children's (English).....	22
(French).....	4

School Loans:

Sent on loan to schools were—564 films; 508 zoological specimens; 322 photographs, mostly coloured; and miscellaneous items, including filmstrips, an Indian diorama, bird call records, and bird slides.

Use of Lecture Hall:

Thirty-five non-profit organizations made use of the Museum's lecture hall.

Sales Desk:

Total sales of items, through mail and directly to the public, amounted to $9,308.72.

“INDIAN DAYS”

Because of its popularity, the “Indian Days” program was extended to three sessions in 1964. Under the leadership of six University students, two sessions took place in July, lasting about a week and a half each, and one in August of a week's duration. About 120 children between the ages of 9 and 12 took part in each session. The daily program lasted from 9.30 a.m. to 4.00 p.m., starting in the morning with an illustrated lecture. In the afternoons, games were played, sometimes authentic Indian ones, and crafts such as modelling in plasticine, making and painting of drums, and art work were enjoyed. The painting of authentic Plains Indian designs on a full-sized tipi was the focal point of the programs. These tipis looked very attractive when finished and set up on the grounds of the Museum and were a source of pride to the boys and girls. An air of authenticity was added by choosing ‘chiefs’ for each ‘tribe,’ and prizes were given to those children who had done the best craft work. The Education Division hopes to continue this project and to improve it in succeeding summers.

MACOUN FIELD CLUB

That this club of young naturalists continues to be a vibrant organization is evident in the number of requests for enrolment. Since the membership in each group—juniors, intermediates, and seniors—has been limited to 35, there is a waiting list. It is a source of pride and accomplishment that a number of the ‘alumni’ of the Club have gone on to work in the natural sciences.

The Club publishes once a year a booklet known as the “Little Bear,” containing articles written by the members. Nature films, filmstrips, and other visual aids are available for its use. The Club held thirty regular meetings, made four field trips, and the total attendance for the year was 1,887.

PATENT AND COPYRIGHT OFFICE

INTRODUCTION

This report is made pursuant to the requirement of section 27 of the Patent Act, (Chapter 203, R.S.C. 1952 as amended by Chapter 19, and Chapter 40 section 15, 2-3 Eliz. II, 1953-54). The tables included herein contain information concerning the transactions of the Office, patent, copyright, industrial design, and timber mark fees, total receipts and expenditures, trend of invention, residence of inventors for applications filed and residence of inventors for patents granted. Examination and disposal of a patent application by the Office in accordance with the Act and Regulations entail a search for novelty, consideration of inventive subject matter, a decision as to patentability and also verification of compliance with procedural requirements. The statute provides for the grant of a seventeen year exclusive right to the inventor (or his successor in title) in return for his disclosing and making available to the public the product of his inventive genius and labours. It also contains provisions to safeguard the public interest against possible abuses of patent rights.

Copyright subsists in every original literary, dramatic, musical or artistic work for the life of the author and a period of fifty years after his death. A system of voluntary registration is in force and a certificate of registration issued by the Office is prima facie proof before the courts that the work belongs to the person in whose name it is issued.

An exclusive right for an industrial design may be acquired by registration under the provisions of the Industrial Design and Union Label Act. Such exclusive right lasts for a period of five years and can be renewed for a further period of five years. Industrial designs are for the ornamentation of any article of manufacture or other article to which a design may be applied or attached.

GENERAL BUSINESS

Applications for patents totalled 27,811, an increase of 754, or about 2.8 per cent. This is an all time record for the Office. Of the total number of applications filed, 22,370 claimed priority of filing date under the International Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property. This is an increase of 810 or about 3.7 percent.

Allowances of applications totalled 25,095, an increase of 376 or 1.5 percent over last year. There were 34,692 reports on patentability. The allowances and reports, being the total number of applications acted on by the Examiners, amounted to 59,787, an increase of 2,895 over the preceding year. During the year 3,157 applications became abandoned through rejection for non-patentability or failure of the applicant to continue prosecution. There were 23,476 patents issued.

The number of deeds entered in the register of assignments was 26,487 an increase of 1,174 over last year's record breaking total.

Copyright applications numbered 7,306, and there were 7,244 registrations made. Industrial design applications amounted to 1,021 and 846 designs were registered; 366 design registrations were renewed.

The following tables show, respectively, the transactions of the Patent Branch and of the Copyright and Industrial Design Branch for the last ten year period.

The fees from all sources amounted to $2,077,214.76.

The sale of printed copies brought in a revenue of $196,338.66.

Copyright Branch Receipts were $32,818.50.

The total expenditure was $2,657,844.75.

PATENT GRANTS

There were 23,476 patents granted. Of this total 23,451 were issued for the full term of seventeen years and 25 were reissued under section 50 of the Act for the unexpired term of seventeen years for which the original patents were granted. This is an increase of 246 over last year.

Patents issued to assignees of the whole interest totalled 20,325, jointly to inventors and assignees of part interest 170 and to inventors or legal representatives 2,981.

The number of patents issued to companies was 20,060, to individuals 3,347 and to companies and individuals jointly 69.

Patents where invention was claimed to have been made by two or more inventors totalled 8,750 and by one inventor 14,726.

Of the total 79 patents were issued to female inventors, to male and female inventors jointly 87, and to male inventors 23,310.

There were 2,032 patents granted to Canadian citizens or companies and 21,444 to patentees who were non-residents of Canada.

There were 30 patents issued subject to the Public Servants Inventions Act. There were 183 patents granted in French.

FORFEITURES, RESTORATIONS AND REINSTATEMENTS

Due to failure to pay the final fee within the period required by section 75, a total of 760 allowed applications became forfeited. Upon payment of restoration and final fees 219 forfeited applications were restored. Of the applications that had lapsed through failure to complete the formal papers or prosecute within the time provided by section 32, reinstatements were allowed in respect of 114.

REGISTER OF PATENT AGENTS

Under the provisions of section 15 of the Patent Act and the Rules under the Patent Act, the names of 84 agents were added to the Register. By reason of failure to comply with rule 144, the names of 44 patent agents were removed from the Register. A qualifying examination, under rule 143 was held on October 19 and 20, 1964. Thirty-two candidates tried the examination and ten were successful. At the close of the year, the names of 1,372 patent agents and patent attorneys appeared on the Register.

PATENT OFFICE RECORD

Pursuant to section 27 of the Patent Act, which requires the publication of a list of all patents granted, the official journal of the Office, the Canadian Patent Office Record, was published on Tuesday of each week. Publication was made in each issue of the principal drawings and claims of patents granted on the day of publication, together with notices and other actions under the Act.

The Office continues to exchange the "Record" for the official journals, indexes and reports on patents, copyright and design bulletins from patent offices in Australia, Austria, Belgium, Egypt, France, Germany, Great Britain, India, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Korea, Mexico, The Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, Republic of South Africa, Sweden, Switzerland and the United States of America.

The "Record" was also exchanged for 14 scientific periodicals and trade journals for the use of the Office.

PATENT PRINTING

The Department of Public Printing and Stationery printed 24,027 patents during the year for the Office. This figure includes 167 reprints.

PATENT OFFICE LIBRARY

During the year 2,447 volumes were added to the Library. Copies of current patent issues were received regularly from Australia, Austria, Egypt, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Korea, The Netherlands, Pakistan, Sweden, Switzerland and the United States of America. In addition, patent journals, copyright and design bulletins, indexes and reports were received from the countries named in the paragraph entitled Patent Office Record above and from Colombia, Czechoslovakia, Finland, The Philippines and Yugoslavia.

The Patent Office Library now contains copies of patents of the following countries from the dates given to the present date, namely:—Great Britain from the year 1617, the United States of America from 1836, France from 1902, Italy from 1925, Australia from 1926, Sweden from 1947, The Netherlands from 1948, Switzerland from 1949, Austria from 1949, Belgium from 1950, Pakistan from 1959, Egypt from 1960 and Germany from 1962. The Library also contains printed copies of Canadian patents from January 1, 1948 and plant patents of the United States of America from No. 1 of August 1, 1931 to 2,489 of March 23, 1965.

One set of United States patents from 1934 to date is segregated according to the classification in force at the time of issue of the individual patents. Another set from November 17, 1964 to date is segregated in numerical order.

N.B. Belgium resumed shipment of their printed patents in March 1965, with No. 620,051, dated July 31, 1962. We do not have copies from 573,100 to 620,051.

STAFF

During the year 39 Patent Examiners were appointed. Seventeen Examiners resigned their positions. The number of Examiners' positions filled at the end of the year was 159, including Technical Officers. The total number of employees in the Patent and Copyright Office on March 31, 1965 was 374.

PROTOCOL BRANCH

The Branch dealt with a number of applications requesting royal patronage in the form of permission to use the name of the Queen and of other members of the Royal Family, and the prefix "royal". Arrangements were made for congratulatory messages from the Sovereign for 921 sixtieth wedding anniversaries and 141 one hundredth birthday anniversaries.

Requests for recognition of acts of bravery by the award of decorations by Her Majesty the Queen were investigated and submitted to the Decorations Committee. The Secretary of State recommended and the Queen approved the award of the British Empire Medal for Gallantry to Mr. Maynard Bobbitt, Harrington Harbour, Quebec, notice of whose award was gazetted on March 13, 1965.

Administrative and clerical assistance in connection with this award and with related matters was given to the Decorations Committee.

The Central Chancery of the Orders of Knighthood in London was notified of the death of 60 holders of Honours and Decorations.

The Protocol Branch assisted in the arrangements made by the Government Hospitality Committee for visits to Canada of distinguished heads of State.

The Secretary of the Branch was in charge of hospitality arrangements for the delegates to the Third Commonwealth Education Conference and accompanied them on their tours of Quebec, Stratford and Niagara Falls.

The Secretary of the Protocol Branch was a member of the Committee on Arrangements for the visit to Canada of Her Majesty the Queen and His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh.

The Director of the Protocol Branch was the Project Officer for the visit of the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh to Ottawa. The Secretary of the Branch was Executive Secretary for the Ottawa visit and was responsible for the arrangements for the arrival and departure ceremonies at Uplands airport and the Reception given by the Prime Minister and Mrs. Pearson at the Chateau Laurier. Assistance was also rendered for the luncheon given by the Prime Minister and Mrs. Pearson.

The Protocol Branch also assisted in the arrangements for a dinner given by the Minister of Justice for the Attorneys General of the Provinces in November, 1964, and for a dinner given on January 11, 1965 in observance of the 100th Anniversary of the birth of Sir John A. Macdonald.

Plans co-ordinated by the Protocol Branch for the annual celebration on Parliament Hill of Dominion Day were approved by the Secretary of State.

The Protocol Branch participated in the arrangements made by two inter-departmental committees, of which the Deputy Registrar General was Chairman, for the National Ceremony of Mourning by the people of Canada for the late Sir Winston Churchill on January 30, 1965, and for the ceremony of Inauguration of the National Flag of Canada on February 15, 1965, both of which were held in the Hall of Fame in the Parliament Buildings.

In connection with the latter ceremony, the Branch distributed approximately 3000 booklets on the arrangements for the ceremony, and some hundreds of flag folders and copies of the flag proclamation.

The customary arrangements were made from time to time on the occasion of applications received by the Secretary of State from lieutenant-governors for leave of absence from their provinces.

The list entitled "Relative Precedence of High Officials of the Public Service at Ottawa", which, as its name implies, indicates the precedence of the principal officers of the Public Service, was revised and distributed.

The usual assistance was given in response to numerous written and verbal enquiries concerning aspects of protocol such as precedence, ceremonial, hospitality, styles of address, the wearing of decorations, use of royal photographs, flags and armorial bearings, the proposing of toasts and other related subjects.

Statutes of the provinces received by the Secretary of State under section 90 of the British North America Act were forwarded to the Department of Justice.

The limited newspaper clipping service heretofore maintained by the Branch and performed on a part-time basis by the staff was extended to cover the activities of the various government agencies placed during the year under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of State, a full-time clerk being added to the strength of the Branch.

The Protocol Branch compiled and edited the annual report of the Secretary of State.

TRANSLATION BUREAU

The Translation Bureau is a service organization established under authority of the Translation Bureau Act of June 1934 for the purpose of centralizing under one agency the translation of government documents from one language into another.

The Bureau is under the direction of the Superintendent who is responsible not only for administration but also for production and other standards of translation.

Being a "service" organization, the Translation Bureau must base its budget and staff requirements on a volume of requests which is difficult to forecast with any degree of accuracy in the near or distant future. Such requests crop up suddenly and in many cases become matters of great urgency.

Increased Volume

One thing is certain however: with all government departments and agencies asserting more and more the bilingual character of our country, the volume of work will increase by leaps and bounds and the Bureau will have to seek new means of meeting this challenge.

During the year 1964-65, the Bureau has had to carry out a record-breaking program. But while there was a steady volume increase in both the parliamentary and departmental sectors, great efforts were nevertheless made to reduce the time-lag between receipt of the original and delivery of the translated material. In the parliamentary sector, a record number of sittings of the House of Commons and of Parliamentary Committees made heavy demands on our translation and simultaneous interpretation services. The figures mentioned hereunder show that the number of pages in both these fields reached new peaks.

Within the departments, a number of major programs in various fields, e.g., welfare, taxation, industry, forestry, etc., have resulted in greatly increased translation workloads.

The results of an intensive recruiting campaign to attract more translators to the Bureau were partly offset by the loss of qualified personnel to industry and various agencies. Staff shortages have been felt acutely in most areas.

Remedial Steps

To cope with these problems the Translation Bureau has initiated a number of short and long-term measures.

(1) The Montreal Division, which was opened shortly before the beginning of the year, serves both as an overload division for the Ottawa units and as a regional office for the federal agencies located in that city, e.g. the National Film Board, the St. Hubert Air Force Station, the Dorval Airport, the Department of Public Works, etc.

(2) A Trainee Division located in Ottawa provides facilities for the training of recruits who fail to meet the qualifications required of full-fledged translators.

(3) The volume of translations contracted to outside translators has been substantially increased.

(4) As mentioned below, the Linguistic and Terminology Centre is being reorganized on a much broader basis, so that not only the staff of the Bureau but also the Public Service and eventually the general public may be able to benefit from the results of its research.

(5) During the year, all departments and agencies were queried regarding their probable future requirements and were asked to submit a two-year forecast of their translation needs. Also, several methods were suggested with a view to increasing efficiency and bringing about closer co-operation between the departments and the Translation Bureau. As a result of the survey, the Bureau will be in a better position to plan its future operations.

(6) However, the most serious difficulty facing the Translation Bureau is in the field of recruitment and means are being devised, in consultation with the Civil Service Commission, to overcome this major problem. More positions have been created for the coming year and the authorities are looking into the possibility of making salaries and working conditions more attractive within the Translation Bureau so that it may be in a better position to compete for the services of qualified translators.

Parliamentary and Legal Translations

Translation was made by the respective divisions of the official report of the House of Commons Debates, covering 11,538 pages, the report of the Senate Debates, comprising 1,378 pages, the proceedings of the standing and special committees of both Houses, and the Estimates. Last year the volume of committee reports set a new record of over 15,000 pages.

The Law Division translated 218 public and private bills together with explanatory notes and indexes. (Divorce bills have been discarded in favour of resolutions and are no longer included in the above total.) Thus, while the number of pieces of legislation was less, the actual over-all volume of translation increased substantially.

The Bureau's Privy Council Division, apart from day-to-day translation of orders, proclamations, regulations implementing various acts, and indexes, was responsible for translating international conventions and agreements and many legal documents for the Privy Council. In addition, the Division classified regulations, revised texts of regulations translated by other divisions and dealt with Treasury Board minutes, special orders and other departmental documents.

The parliamentary divisions also did translations for other government agencies and commissions.

There is an increasing demand for the services of the Bureau's interpreters for parliamentary committees. At the request of various departments, interpreters were assigned to the Federal-Provincial Conferences of March, July, September and October, the Charlottetown and Ottawa Centennial and many other conferences, the Board of Broadcast Governors and Royal Commissions, the Economic Council of Canada, the Advisory Council on Amateur Sports and UNESCO.

The Translation Bureau continued to train candidates for the interpreter pool. When not otherwise occupied, the interpreters assist the translators in their regular work.

Overload Divisions

The General Translation Division is entrusted with the translation of parliamentary committee proceedings and the ever-increasing amount of material that cannot be processed in the departmental divisions within the time allocated. This also applies to the Montreal Division which was established in 1964 to overcome some of the difficulties encountered in hiring translators who, for various reasons, did not apply for employment in Ottawa.

Departmental Translations

The Translation Bureau has twenty divisions serving various Government departments or agencies, namely External Affairs, Veterans Affairs, Agriculture, Unemployment Insurance, Bank of Canada, Citizenship and Immigration, Trade and Commerce, Civil Service Commission, National Defence, Finance and Taxation, Mines and Technical Surveys, Northern Affairs and National Resources, Fisheries, Post Office, National Revenue, National Health and Welfare, Statistics, Labour, Transport and Public Works.

The volume of work of these divisions continued to expand. As a result of staff increases and with the help of the overload divisions, it was possible in many cases to reduce the time lag between the publication of the English and French versions. Because of the large volume of work carried out by these divisions it would be difficult to give even an incomplete list of their translations. Suffice it to say that these translations relate to all phases of Federal Government activity.

Foreign Languages

The Foreign Languages Division was again called upon to translate a great variety of material from approximately 40 languages into English and from English into some 15 languages.

As a result of inter-governmental scientific exchange arrangements, much of this material, chiefly Russian and German texts, was of a highly technical or scientific nature. All translations of this type are passed on to the National Research Council and forwarded to the Office of Technical Services of the United States Department of Commerce which lists them in its semi-monthly publication Technical Translations and sells them at cost throughout the world.

Canada's export drive required a large amount of material to be translated into the German, Dutch, Spanish, Italian and Scandinavian languages, while this country's membership in NATO called for the translation of an abundant quantity of foreign military documentation into English.

As usual, the Division translated numerous inter-governmental communications, international agreements and documents relating to immigration, together with legal documents submitted in support of pension claims filed by Canadians of foreign birth.

Terminology Service

During the year, the Terminology Service continued its work. Several terminological bulletins and other lexicons are being prepared.

The Service keeps in touch with many similar bodies abroad and particularly with international organizations from which it receives highly useful vocabularies and terminological lists in exchange for its own. The Service co-operates with, among others, the Comité d'étude des termes techniques français of Paris with which it exchanges information.

The sudden demise of the former Superintendent who had reached the age of retirement and was about to assume new duties as head of the Terminology Service, made it necessary for the Bureau to appoint a successor whose task will be to continue and expand the highly important function of solving linguistic problems and providing translators with lexicons.

Trainee Division

The Translation Bureau attends to the training of those applicants who, when competitions are held, demonstrate some translation ability but fail to obtain sufficiently high marks to become full-fledged translators.

Formal and practical training is given to beginners with a view to subsequent appointment to the various translation divisions. The Bureau is thus able to train the great number of translators who are constantly needed for replacement purposes.

Co-operation with Other Agencies

The Bureau's staff was called upon to assist other government agencies. The Civil Service Commission in particular was assisted in the marking of translation examination papers and the reviewing of candidates' records in promotional competitions. Assistance was also given to various departmental committees such as the Toponymy Division, Department of Mines and Technical Surveys.
